Venue and Hotel Details

Hotel Name and Address:

GRAND MERCURE BANGKOK ATRIUM

1880 New Petchburi Road, Bangkapi Huay Kwang, Bangkok, 10310
Thailand

About Venue:

Bangkok, the capital and primary port of Thailand, stands out as the lone cosmopolitan hub in a nation predominantly composed of small towns and villages. Serving as the cultural and commercial epicenter of Thailand, Bangkok is strategically positioned on the Chao Phraya River delta, approximately 25 miles (40 km) from the Gulf of Thailand. Historically, the city was bifurcated into Krung Thep on the east bank and Thon Buri on the west, interconnected by multiple bridges. In 1971, these two entities were amalgamated into a single city province under a unified municipal government. The city and the provinces surrounding it were combined again in 1972 to form Bangkok Metropolis, also known as Krung Thep Maha Nakhon.

The name “Bangkok,” commonly used by foreigners, is thought to originate from an ancient moniker predating the city's establishment—referring to the village or district (bang) of wild plums (makok). Locally, the Thai refer to their capital as Krung Thep, the initial component of its elaborate official name that translates to “the City of Gods, the Great City, the Emerald Buddha's residence, the impregnable city (of Ayutthaya) of God Indra, the world's grand capital blessed with nine precious gems, and the joyful city teeming with enormous Royal Palaces Which Resemble the Heavenly Abode Wherein Dwell the Reincarnated Gods, a City Given by Indra and Built by Vishnukarm. Gratitude to the Scientex organizing team!

I, Prof. Jesmine Banu, thanking you for organising this conference and inviting me. I am very grateful to attend this excellent conference.

It's an honour to be a speaker in this conference and share my knowledge and experience with all fellows. Congratulations on your excellent arrangement of the conference. I personally consider it as a perfect assembly where most of the Obs and Gynae Experts from across the world came together to share their knowledge and experience with brilliant presentations on various emerging clinical issues.

Your efforts are appreciated much and are important for the growth of this speciality as a whole. With continued arrangements like this Scientex will continue to set new benchmarks for excellence, innovation and vision. I also wholeheartedly welcome and praise the event arrangements which allowed me to participate amongst the legends of this field and to share my limited two cents of experience.

I again strongly want to convey my gratitude to Scientex and wishing all the very best for the upcoming programmes.

Hope, to meet you in your next series of Gynaecology and Obstetrics conference.
